

WRESTLING WATCHER WEEKLY

From the desk of Brian Potter...

Moments ago, a series of Tweets came from the account of now-former AWA employee Jason Dane. They seem to cut off in mid-stream and have already been deleted, presumably by AWA management. But we managed to get screenshots of them before they went down.

Take a look...

Gotta get this out before they shut down this account. I tried to get clearance to post one final video on the AWA's YouTube channel but they beat me to it. They forgot about this though. I've been fired. Can't change that but I can get one final scoop out. (1/?)

The two "mystery people" pulling O'Neill's strings at the end of SC? They're no mystery at all. The woman is Veronica Westerly... or maybe you'd know her better as Mrs. Temple. That's right. She's Caleb Temple's wife and Truth Marie's mother. (2/?)

She's also the ex-wife of Alex Martinez and the daughter of Jack Westerly, an old time promoter from Texas who had more than his share of problems with Blackjack Lynch over the years. Explains some stuff, huh? (3/?)

And the guy? That's Javier Castillo. Castillo is one of the richest men in Mexico... just don't ask how he makes his money. Okay, I'll tell you anyways. He's been involved with organized crime, drugs, racketeering, you name it. He's even done time! (4/?)

Just the kind of guy the AWA wants to be associated with, right? Well, we know he's EXACTLY the kind of guy that Korugun wants to be associated with. They're the ones who brought him in to run their little excursion into the AWA. (5/?)

So, you've got a Mexican crime lord with a penchant for chaos and violence. A scorned woman who has a reason to hate the Martinez family AND the Lynch family. And now thanks to the Eye of Tyr, they're running the place! Steggle, Michaelson, and Taylor will try to fight (6/?)
